

PROTECT SOUTH CAROLINA'S COASTS

Turn Thumbs Down on Brown

South Carolina's beautiful coastline is essential to our quality of life and our economic well-being. But instead of protecting our fragile coasts, Congressman Henry Brown introduced a bill that would make it easier for developers to build on Kiawah Island, one of the jewels of the Lowcountry and one of the last places that needs more development. According to developer Leonard Long, Brown introduced the bill at his request. We don't need that kind of representation in Congress.

Long-time coastal resident Linda Ketner promises to advocate on behalf of South Carolina's coastal communities and to protect the oceans. That's why she's been endorsed by Ocean Champions. And why we are asking you to vote Tuesday for Linda Ketner for Congress.
